

Harvard / Storytelling Series
Art Museum

Stories:
Across Time and Space

485 Broadway, Cambridge, MA 02138
www.harvardartmuseum.org

Tuesdays in March, 6pm
Arthur M. Sackler Museum Lecture Hall

Three outstanding storytellers share traditional and modern tales for adult audiences.

Tuesday March 2, 2010, 6pm
Forged in the Stars

Jay O'Callahan

Commissioned for NASA's 50th anniversary, O'Callahan's latest work highlights the technological innovation, heroic risks, and pursuit of knowledge central to life in the 20th century. More at www.ocallahan.com.

Tuesday March 9, 2010, 6pm
Stories from the Jain and Hindu Traditions

Surabhi Shah

Shah, based in Washington, DC, tells stories of heroism and devotion sure to move, inspire, and inform. She is one of the few contemporary performers whose repertoire features Jain stories.

Tuesday March 23, 2010, 6pm
Stories from China

Linda Fang

Fang performs folktales and other stories rooted in Chinese history and culture. More at www.chinesestoryteller.com.

Sackler Lecture Hall, 485 Broadway,
Cambridge, MA. Free and open to the public.