

Harvard / Walking Directions Art Museums

From the center of Harvard Square, walking through historic Harvard Yard with its winding pathways can be a challenge, but well worth it if you have not visited before. From Harvard Square, enter any gate and walk directly through the center of the Yard, between Widener Library and Memorial Church, and exit through the gate on Quincy Street. Our historic building at 32 Quincy Street (now closed for renovation) will be directly in front of you. Turn left on Quincy Street. At the corner, you will see the Harvard Art Museums/Arthur M. Sackler Museum adjacent at 485 Broadway (walking time approx. 5 minutes).

Alternatively, locate Holyoke Center, a 10-story building in the center of Harvard Square. Cross over Massachusetts Avenue toward the large brick and iron fence that surrounds Harvard Yard. Follow the sidewalk to the right, down Massachusetts Avenue along the edge of Harvard Yard, and take the first left onto Quincy Street. Walk down Quincy Street to the first traffic light. At the traffic light, the Harvard Art Museums/Sackler Museum is adjacent at 485 Broadway (walking time approx. 10 minutes).
